Mid-High Specific Items

Student Help Line: BCCS is launching a student reporting/help text line. We set up a Google number that a student can text to report a situation or reach out for help. The information will come directly to the counselor, who will then address it with whomever needs to get involved depending on the situation. This idea came through conversations with students and is recognized as an effective means to address whole-child wellness. The number is 616.920.1576. Special thanks to Alicia Verberg for creating the informational posters.

Technology Usage: School issued technology is to be used exclusively for school related reasons. School administration continues to ask that parents and school personnel monitor student activity and take corrective action when students are using school devices for non-school related purposes. In an effort to curtail some chronic inappropriate usage our school will limit available applications for specified individuals and/or groups of students. At this time, the web access for 6th grade students and specific individual mid-high students will be limited to a specified list of resources. Almost all of those applications are listed on the school's landing page. Your awareness, support and engagement is appreciated.
